BOOKS RELATING TO AMERICA,

Printed since the Year 1800.

MDCCCI.

1 NOTES on the State of Virginia. By Thomas Jefferson. First hot pressed edition. . . Philadelphia. 1801.
8vo. pp. 436. App. 56.

First printed at Paris in 1784, with the date of 1782 on the title. The questions to which this work is an answer, were sent to Mr. Jefferson by M. Barbé Marbois, at that time Secretary to the French Legation in the United States. This appears to be the best edition of this work, having the appendix relating to the murder of Logan's family, printed separately in 1800, and other pieces not in the preceding editions. An edition printed at Boston in this year is called the 8th American edition.

2 VOYAGES from Montreal, on the River St. Laurence, through the continent of North America to the Frozen and Pacific Oceans; in the year 1789 and 1793. With a preliminary account of the rise, progress, and present state of the Fur Trade of that country. Illustrated with maps. By Alexander Mackenzie, Esq.
4to. pp. 544. £1. 11s. 6d. Cadell, ———.

"Mr. Mackenzie's narrative, if sometimes minute and fatiguing, is uniformly distinct and consistent; his observations, though not numerous, are sagacious and unassuming; and the whole work bears an impression of correctness and veracity, that leaves no unpleasant feeling of doubt or suspicion in the mind of the reader.—Of the importance of his geographical studies we do not think very highly."—Ed. Rev.

1801. 3 A NARRATIVE of the Indian Wars in New England, from the first planting thereof in the year 1607, to the year 1677, containing a relation of the occasion, rise, and progress of the war with the Indians, in the Southern, Western, Eastern, and Northern parts of the said country. By William Hubbard, A.M., &c.
12mo. pp. 410. Worcester, Mass.
First printed at Boston, N. E., in 1677.

4 NOTES and observations on the pine lands of Georgia, shewing the advantages they possess, particularly in the culture of cotton. By George Sibbald, of Augusta. . Augusta, Geo.
8vo. pp. 71. W.

5 HISTORY of Land Titles in Massachusetts. By James Sullivan.
8vo. Boston.

6 LETTERS from H. E. General George Washington to Arthur Young, F. R. S., containing an account of his husbandry, with a map of his farm; his opinions on various questions in agriculculture; and many particulars of the rural economy of the United States. . . . Richardson, ———.
8vo. pp. 172. 3s.

7 AN ESSAY on the Propagation of the Gospel, in which there are numerous facts and arguments adduced to prove that many of the Indians in America are descended from the ten tribes. Second edition. By Charles Crawford, Esq.
12mo. pp. 154. J. Humphreys, Philadelphia.

8 LETTERS to the Inhabitants of Northumberland. By Joseph Priestly. Second edition. To which is added a letter to a friend in Paris, relating to Mr. Liancourt's Travels in the North American States. Philadelphia.
8vo.

9 A SERIES of American historians from the first discovery of the country to the present time. By Ebenezer Grant Mann, (of Yale College). . . Allen Biog. Dy.

10 PORCUPINE'S WORKS; containing various writings and selections, exhibiting a faithful picture of the United States of America; of their governments, laws, politics, and resources; of the characters of their presidents, governors, legislators, magistrates, and military men; and of the customs, manners, morals, religion, virtues, and vices of the people: comprising also a complete series of historical documents and remarks, from the end of the war in 1783, to the election of the president, in March, 1801. By William Cobbett. . . . London. 1801.

8vo. 12 vols. £3. 3s.

11 LETTERS on the cultivation of the Otaheite Cane; the manufacture of sugar and rum; the saving of molasses; the care and preservation of stock; with the attention and anxiety which is due to negroes, &c. By Clement Caines, Esq. Robinsons, ———.

8vo. pp.

12 EDWARDS'S WEST INDIES. Third edition. With considerable additions.

8vo. 3 vols. £1. 16s.

See 1793 and 1819.

13 AN ESSAY on the malignant pestilential fever, introduced into the West Indian Islands from Boullam on the Coast of Guinea, as it appeared in 1793, 1794, 1795, and 1796. Interspersed with observations and facts, tending to prove that the epidemic existing at Philadelphia, New York, &c., was the same fever introduced by infection, imported from the West India Islands, &c. By C. Chisholm, M.D., &c. Second edition. Mawman, ———.

8vo. 2 vols.

14 AN ESSAY on the Yellow Fever of Jamaica. By David Grant, M.D. . . . Robinsons, ———.

8vo. pp. 65. 3s.

15 A VOYAGE round the World, performed during the years 1790, 1791, and 1792. By Etienne Marchand. Preceded by a historical introduction, and illustrated by Charts, &c. Translated from the French of C. P. Claret Fleuricu, of the National Institute of Arts and Sciences, &c. . . Longman, ———

8vo. 2 vols. and Altas. £1. 11s. 6d.

1802. 31 Apuntamientos para la Historia Natural de los Quadrupedos del Paraguay y Rio de la Plata, escritos por D. Felix de Azara.
4to. 2 vols. Ibarra, Madrid.

Three volumes on the Birds of the same country were printed in 1805. The following dedicatory letter from the author to his brother is interesting. "Dear Nicholas,—Soon after our birth we were separated by our parents, and have never met in the whole course of our lives, except once by chance in Barcelona, when we were together for the short space of two days only. While you was living in the great world, and by your elevated employments, works, talents, and virtues, have gained an honourable name among nations, I have been without any ostensible employment, and without opportunities of making myself known to you or any one else, have passed the best 20 years of my life in the remotest corner of the earth, forgotten even by my friends, without books or rational society, travelling through deserts and immense and frightful forests, birds and beasts my only companions. Of these I have written the history which I now dedicate to you, and send you that you may know me by it, and become acquainted with my labours. It is necessary to inform you, however, that although this is the same work which I sent you some years ago, and which has just been published in Paris*, it has been augmented, rectified, and much improved, as you will find on examination." Madrid, May 16, 1802.

* See No. 24, 1801.

32 Defensa y demostracion del verdadero descubridor de las Quinas del Reyno de Santa Fé, con varias noticias utiles de este especifico en contestacion à la memoria de D. F. A. Zea. Su autor el mismo descubridor D. Sebastian Josef Lopez Ruiz (Medico).
4to. pp. 24. Madrid.

33 Andreas Michaux, Geschichte der Amerikanischen Eichen, &c. Übersetzt und mit illuminirten abbildungen begleitet von Hofr. und Prof. J. S. Kerner, &c. . . Stuttgart.
4to. Erstes heft.

The second number was printed in Hanover, in 1804. The two contain 14 plates mostly coloured.

34 Albers, J. A. Amencanishe Annalen. . Bremen.
8vo.

MDCCCIII. 1803.

1 THE PROGRESS of Maritime Discovery from the earliest period to the close of the 18th century, forming an extensive system of Hydrography. By James Stanier Clarke, F.R.S., Domestic Chaplain to the Prince, and Vicar of Preston. . Cadell, ———.
4to. pp. 1019, and atlas. £3. 8s.

This volume comes down to the end of the 15th century, and is all that was published of the work, which the author contemplated to have completed in six or seven volumes. The Edinburgh Review is rather severe in its criticisms, but allows the author credit for his bibliographical researches. The appendix contains, among other things, Galvano's discoveries of the world, and Locke's history of navigation, and explanatory catalogue of voyages from Churchill's collection.

2 A CHRONOLOGICAL HISTORY of the discoveries in the South Sea or Pacific Ocean.—Part I. commencing with an account of the earliest discoveries of that sea by Europeans, and terminating with the voyage of Sir Francis Drake in 1579. Illustrated with charts. By James Burney, Captain in the Royal Navy.
4to. 5 vols. £8. Hansard, ———.

Vol. II. was printed in 1806 (from 1579 to 1620); Vol. III. in 1813 (from 1620 to 1688); Vol. IV. in 1816 (from 1688 to 1723); and Vol. V. (to the year 1764) in 1817.

3 A CAVEAT against emigration to America with the state of the Island of Cape Breton, from the year 1784 to to the present year; and suggestions for the benefit of the British settlements in North America. . . Lloyd, ———.
8vo. pp. 158.

By W. Smith: See Letters to Lord *, 1804.

4 NOTES on the State of Virginia, with an Appendix relative to the murder of Logan's family. By Thomas Jefferson.
12mo. pp. 363. Trenton, N. J.

6 AN ADDRESS to the government of the United States, on the cession of Louisiana. . . . Philadelphia.
8vo. pp. 56.

7 A LETTER describing Louisiana. By John Sibley.
8vo. H. C. Cat.

8 THE NARRATIVE of a voyage of discovery, performed in H. M. vessel the Lady Nelson, of 60 tons burthen, with sliding keels, in 1803. the years 1800, 1801, and 1802, to New South Wales. By James Grant, Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, &c. To which is prefixed an account of the origin of sliding keels, and the advantages resulting from their use. The whole illustrated with elegant engravings. . . Egerton, ———.

4to. pp. 220. £1. 1s.

9 Account of the Russian discoveries between Asia and America. To which is added the conquest of Siberia, and the history of the transactions between Russia and China. By William Coxe, A.M., &c. Fourth edition considerably enlarged.
4to. Cadell & Davis, ———.

10 Mississipi Question: Report of a debate in the senate of the United States, on the 23rd of February, 1803, in certain resolutions concerning the violation of the right of deposit in the Island of New Orleans. By William Duane. Philadelphia.
8vo. pp. 197. W.

11 A topographical and statistical account of the Province of Louisiana, &c. . . . Baltimore.
12mo.

12 The Journal of Andrew Ellicott, late Commissioner on behalf of the United States during part of the year 1796, the years 1797, 1798, and 1799, and part of the year 1800, for determining the boundary between the United States and the possessions of his Catholic Majesty in America; containing occasional remarks on the situation, soil, rivers, natural productions, and diseases of the different countries on the Ohio, Mississipi, and Gulph of Mexico: with six maps, &c. &c. &c. Philadelphia.
4to. pp. 299, app. 151.

13 The possession of Louisiana by the French considered as it affects the interest of those nations more immediately concerned, viz., Great Britain, America, Spain, and Portugal. By George Orr, Esq. . . Ginger, ———.
8vo. 1s.

14 Travels of four years and a half in the United States of America, during 1798, 1799, 1800, 1801, and 1802. Dedicated by permission to Thomas Jefferson, Esq., President of the United States. By John Davis. . . Ostell, ———.
8vo. pp. 452. 8s. 6d.

"Our chief complaint of this gentleman is not occasioned by a positive lack of ability, but by his want of attention to his own deficiencies, and by pretensions which he is not able to support. It is really ludicrous to observe the superiority which he assumes over his trans-Atlantic acquaintance, among whom he elevates his head as the well-bred and well-educated Englishman; and it is unfortunate that, in some of the dialogues between himself and his American associates, which he publishes in order to expose their vulgarity and conceit, the style and behaviour of the censor himself scarcely offend less than those on which he animadverts."—M. R. These remarks would apply to many subsequent English travellers in America. 1803.

"Mr. Davis is a pedagogue, who would be a wit and a fine gentleman. His book is entirely occupied with the story of his own exploits and adventures, and ought rather to be called Memoirs of his life during his stay in America, than an account or description of the country."—Ed. Rev., 1803.

Reprinted in 1817.

15 An Account of Louisiana, being an abstract of documents in the office of the department of state and the treasury. Philadelphia. 8vo.

16 The history of the Maroons, from their origin to the establishment of their chief tribe at Sierra Leone, including the expedition to Cuba, for the purpose of procuring Spanish chasseurs; and the state of the Island of Jamaica for the last ten years; with a succinct history of the Island previous to that period. By R. C. Dallas, Esq. . . Longman, ———.
8vo. 2 vols. pp. 987. Maps and plates.

The Edinburgh Review seems to be rather too severe upon this work, for by its own account, it contains much curious and interesting matter, and appears to form a useful appendix to Brian Edwards's West Indies; from which however the succinct history of Jamaica is "a very bad abstract," occupying 100 pages, and in the preface to the work said to be written by a Mr. Cutting, without acknowledging the source from which he derived it. —Ed. Rev. 2. p. 376.

17 Remarks on the late war in St. Domingo, with observations on the relative situation of Jamaica, and other interesting subjects. By Colonel Chalmers, late Inspector General of the Colonial Troops in St. Domingo. . Rivington, ———.
8vo. 2s. 6d.

18 Bonaparte in the West Indies; or the history of Toussaint Louverture, the African hero. In three parts.
8vo. 9d. Hatchard, ———.

1803. 19 TABLEAU du climat et du sol des Etats Unis d' Amerique, suivi d'eclaircissemens sur la Floride, sur la Colonie Française au Scioto, sur quelques colonies Canadiennes, et sur les sauvages. Par C. F. Volney, Membre du Senat-Conservateur et de l' Institut National, &c. . . . . Paris
8vo. 2 vols. 9f. 2 maps and 2 plates.

See 1822.

20 SECOND VOYAGE à la Louisiane, faisant suite au premier de l'auteur. Par Baudry des Loziéres. . Paris.
8vo. 2 vols.

See 1802. No. 16.

These volumes have no other pretensions to their title of a voyage to Louisiana, than that the author formerly (1802) published a voyage to that country. The work is in fact a miscellany relating to the whole colonial affairs of France. "His effusions are, for the most part, only valuable as affording some curious specimens of the principles which seem at present to regulate the confidential servants of the French government in their views of West Indian policy, and some striking instances of the total change which the last years of the revolutionary crisis have effected upon the general principles of Frenchmen."—Ed. Rev. 3. p. 81.

21 MEMOIRE sur la colonie de la Guiane Francaise, et sur les avantages politiques et commerciaux de sa possession. Paris.
8vo. pp. 67. W.

22 VUE de la colonie Espagnole du Missisipi, ou des provinces de la Louisiane et de la Floride occidentale, en l'année, 1802. Par un observateur residant sur les lieux. Ouvrage accompagné de deux cartes, dressées avec soin, et artistement gravées et enluminees. B—— Duvallon, editeur. . Paris.
8vo. pp. 318. 2 maps. 4f. 50c.

Republished in 1804 with a new title page, and the name Berquin Duvallon.

4to. pp. 500. 12 plates. £2. 2s.

This large and most ill-arranged volume, contains, apparently, whatever Mr. Janson could recollect of America, aiding his memory by a few notes and memorandums. He went to America with high expectations, engaged in several speculations, all of which failed, and after thirteen years' absence, returned to England, where, as many others have done since, he vented his spleen in writing a book.

5 A TRUE picture of the United States of America, being a brief statement of the conduct of the government and people of that country towards Great Britain, from the peace concluded in 1783 to the present time. By a British subject. Jordan, ———.
8vo. pp. 100. 3s.

6 SOFTLY brave Yankees ! ! ! or the West Indies rendered independent of America; and Africa civilized. Dedicated to the African Association. By the author of A True Picture of America.
8vo. 2s. Jordan, ———.

"Taking it for granted that some prejudice against this country exists in America, must it not be admitted that most of our writers on this side of the water, labour hard to keep it alive, and that those publications are most acceptable in which the Yankees are most abused? If the Americans did not hate the English before, must they not begin to feel angry when our writers tell them that they 'cannot be said to possess character; that they are as capricious as unprincipled,' &c. This sort of language evidently intended to irritate, and not to conciliate, pervades all the pages of these two pamphlets."—M. R.

All the documents in these volumes are in the respective languages in which they were originally written by the persons acting under the authority of the French and American governments. "If they do not display much of the address for which French diplomacy claims credit, some important points of public law are discussed with ability and spirit, and though they are offensive in their nature, they form precious materials for the annalist. Collections of this kind which render state documents more accessible to historians and statemen, are of great utility, and entitle the compilers of them to public acknowledgements." M. R.

3 TRAVELS in America, performed in 1806, for the purpose of exploring the rivers Alleghany, Monongahela, Ohio, and Mississippi, and ascertaining the produce and social condition of their banks and vicinity. By Thomas Ashe, Esq., late Captain in the York Rangers. . . . Phillips, ———. 12mo. 3 vols. £1. 1s.

"An unmeasured hatred of the Americans pervades the whole of Mr. Ashe's narrative. His account of the Atlantic States forms the most comprehensive piece of national abuse we ever recollect to have perused. Their inhabitants, it seems, are all abominably vicious; but in degrees very nicely distinguished; the middle states being bad—the northern very bad—and the southern execrable."—Ed. Rev.

4 AN ACCOUNT of the European settlements in America. 38 LETTRE aux Espagnols Americains. Par un de leurs compatriotes.
8vo. pp. 42. Philadelphie.

This curious and interesting address is the production of D. Juan Pablo Viscardo y Guzman, a native of Arequipa, in Peru. He was one of the exjesuits of South America, who was invited from Italy by Mr. Pitt, at the suggestion of General Miranda, for the purpose of disposing the minds of their countrymen to shake off the yoke of Spain. This uncommon person, who evinces a share of knowledge, of thought and of liberality worthy of the most enlightened countries, died in London in 1798, and left the present tract, in which the inhabitants of South America are called upon by every consideration interesting to human kind, to take the management of their own affairs into their own hands, and to establish a just and beneficent government, which may at once insure their own happiness and open a liberal intercourse of benefits of mankind,—in manuscript, together with several other papers in the hands of Mr. King, at that time Minister of the United States in England. It was afterwards printed by means of General Miranda, for the purpose of being circulated among his countrymen.—Edin. Rev. A translation of this letter is printed at the end of Burke's Additional Reasons, &c. 1807.

MDCCCIX.

1 TRAVELS and Adventures in Canada and the Indian territories, between the years 1760 and 1776. In two parts. By Alexander Henry, Esq. . . . New York. 8vo. pp. 330.

Preface. "A premature attempt to share in the fur trade of Canada, directly on the conquest of the country, led the author of the following pages into situations of some dangers and singularity; and the pursuit under better auspices, of the same branch of commerce, occassioned him to visit various parts of the Indian territories. These transactions occupied a period of sixteen years, commencing nearly with the author's setting out in life. The details, from time to time committed to paper, form the subject matter of the present volume. The heads, under which, for the most part, they will be found to range themselves, are three:—first, the incidents or adventures in which the author was engaged; secondly, the observations on the geography and natural history of the countries visited, which he was able to make, and to preserve; and, thirdly, the views of society and manners, among a part of the Indians of North America, which it has belonged to the course of his narrative to develope."

Montreal, October 20, 1809.

2 A VIEW of the political situation of Upper Canada in North America; in which her physical capacity is stated; the means of diminishing her burden, increasing her value, and securing her connection to Great Britain, are fully considered. With notes and appendix. By John Mills Jackson. Earle, ———. 1809.

8vo. pp. . 3s.

3 Letters from Canada, written during a residence there in the years 1806, 1807, and 1808, shewing the present state of Canada, its productions, trade, commercial importance, and political relations; illustrative of the laws, the manners of the people, and the peculiarities of the country and climate. Exhibiting also the commercial importance of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Cape Breton; and their increasing ability, in conjunction with Canada, to furnish the necessary supplies of lumber and provisions to our West India Islands. By Hugh Gray.
8vo. pp. 406. 12s. Longman, ———.

4 An American Biographical and Historical Dictionary, containing an account of the lives, characters, and writings of the most eminent persons in North America, from its first discovery to the present time, and a summary history of the several colonies and of the United States. 14 AN ORIGINAL and authentic journal of occurrences during the late American war, from its commencement, to the year 1783. By R. Lamb, late Serjeant in the Royal Welsh Fuzileers.
8vo. Dublin.
The author went to America in 1776, a non-commissioned officer in the 9th regiment of foot, and served until the peace, when he returned to his native country, Ireland, and became a schoolmaster. He undertook this work because he had seen no "impartial detail of the more minute, but no less important occurrences of the war, which, as secret springs, actuated the public movements, and which were never any further disclosed to the world, but as comprised in the general result." The preface is dated, October 1809, the conclusion of the work, June 26, 1810.

4 Inchiquin, the Jesuits letters, during a late residence in the United States of America: being a fragment of a private correspondence accidentally discovered in Europe, containing a favourable view of the manners, literature, and state of society, of the United States, and a refutation of many of the aspersions cast upon this country by former residents and tourists. By some unknown foreigner. (C. J. Ingersoll.) . . . New York.

8vo. pp. 165.

See Quart. Rev., 1814, No. 21, vol. x. p. 516, for a criticism on this work, made the text for a violent diatribe against the United States, in which it is stated among other things equally delicate and veracious, "To bundle is peculiar to America, and applied exclusively to the particular ceremony, of which we shall have occasion to say a few words bye and bye." While correcting the proof of this sheet, I see in the Times of this day, (Oct. 12, 1843,) an account of the death of two infants at Carnarvon, by laudanum given them by a servant maid, and on the inquest it is stated that circumstances transpired to establish that the practice of servants drugging infants committed to their charge, prevails to a very great extent in Carnarvon and the neighbourhood, and particularly on Saturday nights, the usual time of courting according to the custom of the country, that is, by bundling,—in order that a deep sleep being induced, the parties may enjoy the pastime uninterrupted. One druggist made the degrading confession that he generally dispensed laudanum to 50 or 60 servant girls on a Saturday night.—Chester Chronicle. 1810.

MDCCCXVII.

1 A NARRATIVE of Occurrences in the Indian countries of North America, since the connection of the Earl of Selkirk with the Hudson's Bay Company, and his attempt to establish a colony in the Red River; with a detailed account of his Lordship's military expedition to, and subsequent proceedings at Fort William, in Upper Canada. . . Egerton, ———.
8vo. pp. 152 and 87. 5s.

2 STATEMENT respecting Lord Selkirk's Settlement at Kildonan; its destruction, in the years 1815 and 1816; and the massacre of Governor Semple and his party. . . London.
8vo. pp. 125. App. 89. Map.

A note at the beginning is dated January, 1817. It is the work referred to in a postscript to the foregoing "Narrative," as having made its appearance in the circle of Lord Selkirk's friends. I have a copy with a manuscript note, signed J. Halkett, from which it would appear that he was the author of it. The following is a much enlarged edition of the same:

3 A STATEMENT respecting the Earl of Selkirk's settlement upon the Red River, in North America, its destruction in 1815 and 1816, and the masacre of Gov. Semple and his party. With observations upon a recent publication, entitled "A Narrative of Occurrences in the Indian Countries," &c. . Murray, ———.
8vo. pp. 194. App. 100. Map. 7s. 6d.

The preface, dated June, 1817, says, "the statement contained in the following sheets was, some time ago, printed, and circulated among Lord Selkirk's personal friends, and some other individuals to whom it was thought proper to communicate the facts which it contained."

4 THE COMMUNICATIONS of "Mercator," upon the contest between the Earl of Selkirk, and the Hudson's Bay Company, on one side, and the North-West Company on the other. Republished from the Montreal Herald. . . . Montreal.

A Narrative of a Journey of five thousand miles, through the Eastern and Western States of America; contained in eight reports addressed to the 39 English families by whom the author was deputed in June, 1817, to ascertain whether any, and what, part of the United States would be suitable for their residence. With remarks on Mr. Birkbeck's Notes and Letters. By Henry Bradshaw Fearon. Second edition.

8vo. pp. 454. 10s. 6d. Longman, ———.

"The tone of ill temper which this author usually manifests in speaking of the American character, has gained for his work the approbation of persons who regard that country with peculiar jealousy. The first edition is dated from Plaistow; the second from the Adelphi; and if the volume proceeds to a third edition, we should not despair in seeing it dated from some office in the treasury."—M. R. "An able writer, but no lover of America, and a little given to exaggeration in his views of vices and prejudices."—Ed. Rev.

1 A CHRONOLOGICAL HISTORY of North-Eastern Voyages of Discovery; and of the early Eastern navigations of the Russians. By Captain James Burney, F.R.S. Payne & Foss, ———.
8vo. pp. 310.

2 A VOYAGE of Discovery, made under the orders of the Admiralty, in H. M.'s ships Isabella and Alexander, for the purpose of exploring Baffin's Bay, and enquiring into the probability of a North-West passage. By John Ross, K.S., Captain, Royal Navy.
4to. pp. 430. 32 col. plates and maps. Murray, ———.

3 A VOYAGE of Discovery, &c. Second edition. Longman, ———. 1819.
8vo. 2 vols. £1. 1s.

"Captain Ross appears to have done his duty with great diligence, courage, and ability; and to have told his story very clearly and honestly. But we cannot say that he has made a very interesting book of it—or that his voyages are likely to go through as many editions as those of Capt. Cook; on the contrary, we must fairly say, that we have found this work very heavy reading, and that it appears to us to be encumbered with details which might very well have been spared."—Ed. Rev. xxxi. p. 337.

4 REMARKS on the Account of the late Voyage of Discovery to Baffin's Bay, published by Captain J. Ross, R. N. By Captain Edward Sabine, Royal Artillery. . Booth, ———.

11 A NARRATIVE of the Transactions in the Red River country; from the commencement of the operations of the Earl of Selkirk, till the summer of the year 1816. By Alexander M'Donnell, esq. With a Map exhibiting part of the route of the Canadian Fur Traders in the interior of North America, and comprising the scene of contest between Lord Selkirk and the North-West Company.

8vo. pp. 106. Map. M'Millan, ———.

8vo. pp. 126.

13 A HISTORY of the Island of Newfoundland; containing a description of the Island, the Banks, the Fisheries, and the Trade of Newfoundland, and the Coast of Labrador, illustrated with two Maps. By the Rev. Lewis Amadeus Anspach, late a Magistrate of the Island, and Missionary for the district of Conception-Bay.

8vo. pp. 512. 2 maps. 16s. Allman, ———.

14 FACTS and Observations respecting Canada, and the United States of America, affording a comparative view of the inducements to emigration presented in those countries. To which is added an appendix of practical instructions to emigrant settlers in the British colonies. By Charles F. Grece, author of Essays on Husbandry addressed to the Canadian Farmers.

8vo. pp. 172. 7s. Harding, ———.

Mr. Grece expatiates on the advantages of Canada, and the disadvantages of the United States; but says little or nothing about the disadvantages of the former or the advantages of the latter. The intention of his pamphlet being to induce emigrants to give the preference to Canada.

15 OBSERVATIONS on Emigration to the United States of America: illustrated by original facts. By William Savage.

8vo. pp. 66. Sherwood, ———.

Mr. Savage was deterred from emigrating by the information he obtained respecting America, and which is here detailed as a warning to others with similar intentions. Mr. S. belongs to that class of writers who view only one side of the question, and overlook every circumstance which does not tend to establish the position that is to be maintained. Some of his instances of the treatment of his Yorkshire countrymen in America, are curious enough. 1819.

16 A Year's Residence in the United States of America, &c. In three parts. By William Cobbett.
8vo. pp. 610. (See 1818, No. 32.) Sherwood, ———.

17 The Emigrant's Directory to the Western States of North America, including a Voyage out from Liverpool; the Geography and Topography of the whole Western country, according to its latest improvements, with instructions for descending the rivers Ohio and Mississippi; also a brief account of a new British Settlement on the Head Waters of the Susquehana, in Philadelphia. By William Amphlett, formerly of London, now resident on the banks of the Ohio river. . . Longman, ———.
Crown 8vo. pp. 280. 6s.

"The present small volume appears to contain the most impartial account of the Western States that we have yet seen. The author disclaiming all intention of offering advice on the subject of emigration to the American continent, confines himself to a description of the country; and he does not appear to be one of those speculators who have land to sell, and are therefore interested in one particular State."

18 Letters from Lexington and the Illinois, containing a brief account of the English Settlement in the latter territory. By Richard Flower. . . Ridgway, ———.
8vo. pp. 32. 1s.

These letters were written in June and August, 1810. The writer appears to have been free from the usual English prejudices, and speaks well of the country and its inhabitants.

19 Geographical Sketches of the Western country: designed for Emigrants and Settlers: being the result of extensive researches and remarks, &c. By E. Dana. . Cincinatti.
12mo. pp. 312.

8vo. pp. 356. 10s. 6d.

"This volume affords a great portion of useful information for emigrants, and the common reader will not be disappointed in his expectation of interesting narrative: but Mr. H. has unhappily a cacoethes for fine writing, in which he does not excel.—In describing the Falls of the Niagara, he has out-Heroded Herod, and beaten Bombastes Furioso out of the field: he has copied the poet's advice, has made the 'sound to echo the sense,' and, like the cataract itself, his description of it is all splash, dash, roar, and foam."—M. R. 2nd edition, 1822. 3rd edition, 1825. 1821.

8 TRAVELS through Upper and Lower Canada, with an Accurate Description of Niagara Falls. . . New York.

1821. 46 MEMOIRS of the Mexican Revolution, including a Narrative of the Expedition of General Xavier Mina; to which are annexed some observations on the practicability of opening a commerce between the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans, through the Mexican Isthmus, in the province of Oaxaca, and at the lake of Nicaragua, and on the vast importance of such commerce to the civilized world. By William Davis Robinson. Lackington, ———.
8vo. 2 vols. Portrait. £1. 4s.

See 1824. First printed at Philadelphia, in 1820.

This work is spoken well of in the Monthly Review. The nickname of Gachupines, given in Mexico to the natives of Old Spain, is stated by Mr. Robinson to have originated from a Mexican word signifying two-headed, which was applied to Cortez's Cavalry, the Indians supposing the horse and man to form but one animal.

8vo. pp, 76. 2s. 6d.

The Quarterly Review (xxvii. p. 71), has an article on this book and those of Harris, Welby, and Miss Wright (No. 17, 18, and 19 of 1821), in which all the passages are selected from them, which, by the ingenuity and misrepresentations of the reviewer, can be made to represent America in the most unfavourable light in every repect for the discouragement of emigration to that country; followed immediately by another, representing in the strongest colours the advantages of Van Dieman's Land, which, "to all who can command a little capital, will be found a land flowing with milk and honey."—It is little to the credit of a journal of such high pretensions, to lend itself in this manner, to the interested views of speculators and land jobbers.

27 MEMOIRS OF A LIFE, chiefly passed in Pennsylvania, within the last sixty years. . . . Edinburgh.

8vo. pp. 431.

First printed in 1811 at Harrisburgh, where the author, a captain in the U. S. army (not in the navy, as stated by Allen), resided. This edition was published by J. Galt, who says that "it is, perhaps, the best personal narrative that has yet appeared relative to the history of that great conflict which terminated in establishing the independence of the United States. The candour with respect to public occurrences, which it displays; the views of manners in Pennsylvania prior to the memorable era of 1776, and the incidental sketches of historical characters, with which it is enriched, cannot fail to render this volume a valuable addition to the stock of general knowledge, and will probably obtain for the author no mean place among those who have added permanent lustre to the English language."—The Quarterly Review (xxvi. p. 364) calls Mr. Galt to account, for his high opinion of this work, which, it "ventures to pronounce to be in matter almost worthless, and in manner wholly contemptible."

28 ANECDOTES of the Revolutionary War in America, with Sketches of Character of Persons the most distinguished in the Southern States, for Civil and Military Services. By Alex. Garden, of Lee's Partisan Legion, Aid de camp to Major Gen. Greene, &c.

8vo. pp. 459. Charleston, S. C.

The N. A. R. (xv. p. 455) praises this work, but says that it is disfigured by numerous typographical errors. A second series published in 1828.

39 EUROPE AND AMERICA in 1821, with an Examination of the Plan laid before the Cortes of Spain, for the recognition of the Independence of South America. Translated from the French of the Abbé de Pradt, by J. D. Williams. Cowie, ———.

8vo. 2 vols.

"The style of this work resembles sometimes that of a sermon, sometimes that of a newspaper; while the matter is composed of vague, unsubstantial remarks; endless dissertation, which leaves, after the perusal, no definite idea of what we have been reading, nor any feeling except that of great lassitude; ranting declamation without an object; and perpetual attempts at reasoning, followed by regular failures. The mediocrity of the original is greatly encreased by the vileness of the translation. The language is hardly English, and the sense in almost every page is mistaken."—E. R.

4 ACTS of the General Assembly of H. M.'s Province of New Brunswick, passed in the year 1823. . Fredericton.
8vo. pp. 67.

5 SOME ACCOUNT of the Public Life of the late Lieut.-Gen. Sir George Prevost, Bart.; particularly of his Services in the Canadas; including a Reply to the Strictures on his Military Character, contained in the Quarterly Review, Oct. 1822.
8vo. pp. 197. app. 92. Cadell, ———.
This pamphlet was published in consequence of an article in the Quarterly Review (xxvii. p. 405), on the Campaigns in the Canadas, in which all the misfortunes that happened to the English on the Lakes are attributed to Gen. Prevost. The charges against him were, it seems, principally made in the "Letters of Veritas," originally published in a weekly paper printed at Montreal, which the reviewer says, within a small compass, contains a greater body of useful information upon the campaigns in the Canadas than is any where else to be found. They were subsequently collected into a small volume (the date of which is uncertain) with the following title:

6 THE LETTERS OF VERITAS; containing a succinct Narrative of the Military Administration of Sir George Prevost during his command in the Canadas; whereby it will be manifest that the merit of preserving them from Conquest belongs not to him. 1823.

8vo. (Quart. Rev. xxvii. p. 405). Montreal.

12mo.?

16 TRAVELS in New England and New York. By Timothy Dwight, S.F.D., LL.D., late President of Yale College; author of Theology Explained and Defended. Illustrated with Maps, &c.

8vo. 4 vols. Baynes, ———.

"This work, though the humblest in its pretences, is the most important of Dr. Dwight's writings, and will derive additional value from time, whatever may become of his poetry and of his sermons. Soon after he had been appointed President of Yale College, he found it necessary for his health to employ the vacations in travelling.—A wish to gratify those who, a hundred years hence, might feel curiosity concerning his native country, made him resolve to prepare a faithful description of its existing state. He made notes, therefore, and collected information, on the spot; the materials were arranged and composed at leisure. The work is in the form of letters addressed to an English gentleman; the author however wished it to be understood that they were written for his own countrymen, supposing that few persons in Great Britain felt any desire to be acquainted with the condition of the United States, or the real character of the Americans."—Quar. Rev. xxx. p. 1.

17 TRAVELS through the United States and Canada in 1818 and 1819. By John M. Duncan, A. B. . Glasgow.

Cr. 8vo. 2 vols.

Dedicated to Professor Silliman, of Yale College.

18 REMARKS during a Journey through North America in the years 1819, 1820, and 1821, in a Series of Letters; with an Appendix containing an Account of several of the Indian Tribes, and the principal Missionary Stations. Also a Letter to M. Jean Baptiste Say, on the comparative Expense of Free and Slave Labour. By Adam Hodgson, esq., of Liverpool. Collected and arranged by Samuel Whiting. . . . New York.

8vo. pp. 355.

Mr. Hodgson's "book is creditable to his heart and his principles; we should be glad if as much could be said of his discretion and judgment."—N. A. R. xviii. p. 221. The edition published in London in 1824 in two volumes, is probably more complete.

19 MEMORABLE DAYS IN AMERICA; being a Journal of a Tour to the United States, principally undertaken to ascertain by positive evidence the Condition and probable Prospects of British Emigrants; including Accounts of Mr. Birkbeck's Settlement in Illinois, and intended to shew Men and Things as they are in America. By W. Faux, an English Farmer. 1823.

8vo. pp. 448. 14s. Simpkin, ———.

This book gave rise to a most abusive article on the United States in the 58th No. of the Quarterly Review (xxix. p. 338), which was replied to with more zeal than judgment in the N. A. R. (xix. p. 92). Whenever we are wise enough to laugh at such articles, the Quarterly will cease to publish them. —John Bull chuckles at the idea of vexing Jonathan.

20 AN ACCOUNT of the United States of America, derived from actual Observation during a residence of four years in that Republic; including Original Communications. By Isaac Holmes, of Liverpool. . . . . Fisher, ———.

8vo. pp. 476. 12s.

21 THE WANDERER IN AMERICA, or Truth at Home; comprising a Statement of Observations and Facts relative to the United States and Canada, North America; the result of an extensive personal Tour, and from sources of information the most authentic, &c. By C. H. Wilson. . . Thirsk, (Scotland.)

12mo. pp. 120. Called, on the cover, the 4th edition.

22 ACCOUNT of an Expedition from Pittsburgh to the Rocky Mountains performed in the years 1819 and 1820, by order of the Hon. J. C. Calhoun, Secretary of War, under the command of Major Stephen H. Long: from the Notes of Major Long, Mr. T. Say, and other gentlemen of the exploring party. Compiled by Edwin James, Botanist and Geologist for the Expedition. Philadelphia.

23 ——— Another edition. . Longman, ———.

8vo. 3 vols. £1. 16s.

24 OBSERVATIONS on the Language of the Muhhekaneew Indians. By Jonathan Edwards. A new edition, with Notes, by John Pickering. . . . . Boston.

8vo. Printed at New Haven in 1788.

1823. 25 MANNERS AND CUSTOMS of several Indian Tribes located West of the Mississippi, including some Account of the Soil, Climate, and Vegetable Productions; and the Indian Materia Medica; to which is prefixed the History of the Author's Life during a Residence of several years among them. By John D. Hunter.
8vo. pp. 402. Philadelphia.

The Quarterly Review (xxxi. p. 79), says that "the perusal of Mr. Hunter's narrative has left a strong conviction on our minds, that it is the authentic production of an individual who has actually passed many years of his life among the Indians:" but the N. A. R. (vol. xxii. p. 53), gives undoubted proofs of Hunter's being an impostor. See Norgate's Defence of Hunter. 1826. This book was reprinted in London, in the same year, under the following title:

26 MEMOIRS of a Captivity among the Indians of North America, from Childhood to the age of Nineteen; with Anecdotes descriptive of their Manners and Customs. To which is added some Account of the Soil, Climate, and Vegetable Productions of the Territory westward of the Mississippi. By John D. Hunter.

18 An Excursion through the United States and Canada during the years 1822 and 1823. By an English Gentleman.

8vo. pp. 511. Map. 16s. Baldwin, ———.

By Captain Blaney? — The English Gentleman says that he could not help remarking with regard to the Americans in general, the total want of all those games and sports that obtained for his country the appellation of "Merry England." Cricket, foot-ball, quoits, &c. appear to be utterly unknown.—Now I have resided fourteen years in England, and if I were to return to the United States and write my "Memorable days in England," I might say the very same of Englishmen in general, because I never saw such things as foot-balls, bats, or quoits: but I take it for granted that the boys do play at them in England, as I was accustomed to, in my youthful days, in America; not in the public streets or squares, but in retired courts or enclosures, where strangers "taking notes," would not be likely to intrude.

19 Remarks made on a short Tour between Hartford and Quebec, in the autumn of 1819. By the author of "A Journal of Travels in England," &c. Second edition, with Corrections and Additions. . . . . New Haven.

8vo. pp. 371.

Printed at New York in the same year in 2 vols. 12mo. Principally a compilation from other works. N. A. R. xix., p. 364. "The author is himself absolutely without any qualifications whatever for the task he has undertaken. The literary composition of this volume is below criticism, its only value consisting in the copious extracts from Heckwelder's Account of the Indian Nations. The compiler's other assistants are a Dr. Jarvis of New York, and a Mr. Duponceau of Philadelphia, &c." Quarterly Review, xxxi., p. 80.

21 ANNALS of the Town of Concord in the County of Merrimack, and State of New Hampshire, from its settlement in the year 1726 to the year 1823, with several Biographical Sketches. To which is added a Memoir of the Penacook Indians. By Jacob B. Moore.

4to. pp. 326. £1. 11s. 6d.

A 4th edition (in 8vo.) was printed in 1839.

Mr. Waterton was a Roman Catholic gentleman of Yorkshire, of good fortune, who instead of passing his life at balls and assemblies, preferred living with the Indians and Monkeys of the Forests of Guiana. He abounds with good feeling; and has written a very entertaining book, which hurries the reader out of his European parlour, into the heart of tropical forests, and gives, over the rules and the cultivation of the civilized parts of the earth, a momentary superiority to the freedom of the Savage, and the wild beauties of nature. Ed. Rev.

Señor Navarrete deserves the greatest credit, for having brought to light, and preserved from destruction these invaluable documents relating to Columbus, and the early voyages to the New World. The account of Columbus' first voyage was taken from his original papers, by the celebrated Las Casas, a copy of which was found in the archives of the Duke del Infantado in his hand writing. An abstract of it is found in his Historia de las Indias of which three stout volumes in folio exist in MS. In the year 1823 I found a copy of this MS. of the first voyage in the library of Luzuriaga, an eminent physician of Madrid, deceased a short time before: and was informed by one of his sisters, that it had been made by herself from the original, which had been in the hands of her brother, for safe keeping, during the time the French were in possession of Madrid, and was afterwards returned to the Duke. I made an application to him, through Father Egan, his confessor, who informed me that the Duke was entirely ignorant of any such work having ever been in his possession. As I knew of no other copy, I considered the discovery and acquisition of this MS. as very valuable and important. It was not until two years after, that I learnt that Señor Navarrete had also taken a copy from the original, and was preparing it for publication. An American captain who was in Madrid at the time I discovered the MS. reported on his return to the United States, that I had obtained Columbus' Original Journal in his own hand writing, and this report was published in most of the newspapers. These voyages are preceded by a long and very learned introduction by the editor, and followed by a collection of all the documents found in the archives of Spain, relating to Columbus and his voyages. A third volume was published in 1829, and a fourth and fifth in 1837. These contain the voyages of Vesputius, Magallanes, Elcano, and others. The troubles in Spain have interrupted the continuation, for which the learned editor has materials for many volumes.

8vo. pp. 582.

Published originally in the Newspapers: for the first time, in a collected form, at New York, in 1788.

28 Indian Treaties, and Laws and Regulations relating to Indian Affairs: to which is added an Appendix, containing the Proceedings of the Old Congress, and other important State Papers in relation to Indian Affairs. Compiled and published under orders of the Department of War. . Washington, D. C.

8vo. pp. 529. (N. A. R. xxiv. p. 345.)

A valuable compilation, judiciously executed, containing many important documents. This work serves as the text to a very interesting and well written article in the North American Review (vol. xxiv. p. 345), on the conduct of the Government of the United States towards the Indians within and bordering on their territories, compared with that of the English Government, in answer to an article in the 61st No. of the London Quar. Rev. The writer (supposed to be Gov. Cass,) says, "We look with deep sympathy on the condition of this feeble remnant, who, like the autumnal foliage of their own forests, are scattered by every blast, but to whom no spring will bring renovation; and we regard with deep solicitude every effort for their preservation and melioration." These sentiments do honor to the person who wrote them, and should be deeply impressed in the mind of every American. Our country, he should remember, was once theirs, and as we have risen up to greatness, their tribes have dwindled away and disappeared from off the face of the earth. He should recollect that but for us, they might now have been great and flourishing nations, happy in their native forests and hunting the deer, upon the very sites of our greatest cities. With a nature entirely different from that of Europeans, they have never been able to reconcile themselves to their customs and habits: what we call civilization has been death to them. The experience of several generations having shewn that the character of the North American Indian can never assimilate with that of his white brethren, let us leave the small remnant of them unmolested in their wildernesses. We, who boast of our Independence, should not surely interfere with theirs. 1826.

29 A JOURNEY IN NORTH AMERICA, containing a Survey of the countries watered by the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, and other affluing Rivers; with exact Observations on the Course and Soundings of these Rivers; and on the Towns, Villages, Hamlets, and Farms of that part of the New World; followed by Philosophical, Political, Military, and Commercial Remarks, and by a Projected Line of Frontiers and General Limits. Illustrated by 36 Maps, Plans, Views, and divers cuts. By Victor Collot, late General in the French Service, and Governor of Guadeloupe.

4to. pp. 310 and 272. Atlas of 36 plates, and maps. Paris.

This work was printed, both in French (see No. 57) and English, but not published, at the time of Gen. Collot's death, which happened in 1805. More than twenty years afterwards the whole impression came into the hands of M. Bertrand, an eminent publisher in Paris, who reserved 100 copies of the English and 300 of the French edition, and made waste paper of the remainder. The translation was made by an English gentleman, under the eyes of the General himself. The journey was undertaken in 1796, at the request of Adet, minister from France to the United States, for the purpose of obtaining "a minute detail of the political, commercial and military state of the western part of that continent."—An Appendix is referred to, but appears to have been printed only in the French edition. It relates to the General's dispute with the Spanish Governor of Louisiana. —The maps and plates are beautifully engraved by Tardieu.—A few copies were printed on LARGE PAPER.

30 THE DIPLOMACY of the United States; being an Account of the Foreign Relations of the country, from the Treaty with France in 1778, to the Treaty of Ghent in 1814, with Great Britain.

8vo. pp. 379. (N.A.R. xxiv. p. 92.) By Theodore Lyman, esq. Boston.

33 An Address to the Whites; delivered in the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, on the 26th of May, 1826. By Elias Boudinot, a Cherokee Indian. . Philadelphia.
8vo. pp. 16.

"A book written by an Indian is a novelty, even in this native land of Indians. The one before us has much interest, both in regard to its origin and its subject. It was made, as we see on the title-page, by a Cherokee Indian, and it gives a short but somewhat remarkable account of his nation." N. A. R. xxiii. p. 470. This Cherokee Indian took the name of Dr. Boudinot (see 1816), by his permission. See Allen Biog. Dict.

34 Mr. John Dunn Hunter defended; or some Remarks on an Article in the North American Review, in which that Gentleman is branded as an Impostor. By E. Norgate. Miller, ———.
8vo. pp. 38. 2s.

Mr. J. Neale wrote an article on this pamphlet against J. D. Hunter, which was published in some Magazine of July of this year, occupying 27 pages closely printed.

8vo. pp. 250.

40 The Birds of America, from Original Drawings, by John James Audubon. . . Havell, ———.
Atlas folio. 4 vols. 400 coloured plates. £168.

This great and magnificent work was commenced in this year, and finished in 1839. Its great dimensions have permitted eagles and other birds of the largest size, to be represented of their natural size, and even in groups. "All is combined in the most happy manner," says Brunet, "to ally the exactness of individual details with the living and animated representations of general forms." The descriptive letter-press was published in 1831 and following years, in 8vo., the plates having been published without any text, to avoid, it is said, the necessity of furnishing copies gratis to the public libraries in England, agreeably to the law of copyright.

41 Commentaries on American Law. By James Kent.
8vo. 4 vols. (N. A. R. xxiv. p. 345.) New York.

A most able and highly esteemed work, (of which a second edition was published in 1832,) for which we are indebted to a peculiar provision in the Constitution of the State of New York; by which no one can exercise the functions of a judge, after he has attained the age of sixty years. Judge Kent reached the end of his sixtieth year on the 31st of July, 1823, when he was obliged to descend from the high station he had filled with so much honour, and return to private life. He was then appointed Professor of Law in Columbia College, and employed his leisure hours in preparing these Commentaries. Am. Quart. i. p. 162.

8vo. pp. 164.
The author of this "spirited little sketch" says that it is the result of two residences in the United States of three years each, at seperate epochs, with a cosiderable interval. His object seems to have been to dash off some of the leading and peculiar features of the republican government, constitution and society; this he has done with a bold and sweeping pencil. *M. The benevolent and virtuous Las Casas has been accused of exaggeration and falsehood in his account of the cruelties of the Spaniards to the Indians, exercised upon them soon after the discovery of their country up to the middle of thè sixteenth century. But although his accounts were denied and declared to be calumnious, yet notwithstanding, we find the natives of Peru treated with the same cruelty, for more than 200 years afterwards; and we have in this work testimonies thereof, which it will be difficult for the most zealous defender of the humanity of the Spaniards to refute. A new era has however now dawned in that country, and it is to be presumed that those who have fought for the blessings of a free and independent government, will allow the original possessors of the soil they now occupy, to enjoy their share of the rights to which they are entitled; for are they not men and brothers!

34 Travels through the Interior Provinces of Colombia. By J. P. Hamilton, late Chief Commissioner from H. B. M. to the Republic of Colombia. . . Murray, ———.
Cr. 8vo. 2 vols. Plates.

Col. Hamilton was appointed chief of a commission, sent out by Mr. Canning, in the autumn of 1823, to Colombia, for the purpose of enquiring into its actual situation, with a view to that recognition of its independence on the part of Great Britain, which soon after took place. The Colonel tells every thing that occurred to him on his travels, whether it be trifling or important; whether it refer to a member of government, or to a monkey or parrot, or even to a snake or mosquito. His style is the familiar, easy chit-chat of an old acquaintance; the gossip of a good-natured military man who has seen enough of battle and turmoil to despise all meaner hardships.—M. R.

38 JOURNEY FROM BUENOS AYRES, through the Provinces of Cordova, Tucuman, and Salta to Potosi, thence by the Deserts of Carauja to Arica, and subsequently to Santiago de Chili and Coquimbo: undertaken on behalf of the Chilian and Peruvian Mining Association, in the years 1825 and 1826. By Captain Andrews, late Commander H. C. S. Windham.
Cr. 8vo. 2 vols. Murray, ———.

Captain Andrews was sent out during the Mining mania, by one of the numerous London Associations, and in these two volumes, gives a very clear, sensible, and modest account of his journey and subsequent proceedings in execution of his trust. They are well worth any one's reading, both for the entertainment to be derived from them, and the information they occasionally convey. Ed. Rev.

8 THE HISTORY OF THE PROVINCE OF MASSACHUSETT'S BAY, from 1749 to 1774, comprising a detailed Narrative of the Origin and early Stages of the American Revolution. By Thomas Hutchinson, esq., LL.D., formerly Governor of the Province. Edited from the Author's MS., by his Grandson, the Rev. John Hutchinson, M.A. . . . Murray, ———.

8vo. pp. xx., 551.

This forms the third volume of Hutchinson's History, the first of which was first printed at Boston in 1764, reprinted in London in 1765, and not in 1760, the date on the title page in some copies, which occasioned its insertion under that date, in the first part of this work (p. 133). The second volume was printed at Boston in 1767, and in London in 1768. A collection of papers, illustrative of the history, was printed at Boston in 1769, but was not reprinted. The editor of the present volume mentions in his preface, that a reprint of the two former volumes, with some additions which the author had left in MS., was in contemplation. That this has not taken place is to be deplored, but is not at all strange, this volume having met with no encouragement in England, and would have been a serious loss, if the literary zeal of James Savage, esq., of Boston, had not secured the private circulation of 500 copies in America.

11 THE REGISTER OF PENNSYLVANIA. Devoted to the Preservation of Facts and Documents, and every other kind of useful Information respecting the State of Pennsylvania. Edited by Samuel Hazard. . . . Philadelphia.
8vo. Vol. I. pp. 448.

This work, commenced in this year and continued down to 1835, consists of fifteen very large and closely printed volumes, embodying a vast mass of information not to be found elsewhere. The editor is the son of Ebenezer Hazard, who published, in 1792-4, "Historical Collections," in two volumes, 4to., a work of great value and now become of great rarity.

12 A CONDENSED GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY OF THE WESTERN STATES, or the Mississipi Valley. By Timothy Flint, Author of Recollections of the last ten years in the Mississippi Valley.
8vo. 2 vols. Cincinnati.

This excellent work is allowed by Mr. Ward in his Mexico in 1827, to be both inreresting and instructive, although written in "a most uncouth style."—It contains a historical, geographical, and statistical account of the Valley of the Mississippi, first in the general, and then of the various separate States within its limits; and in this account are included general notices of the various productions found in the same region in the different departments of natural history. N. A. R.

13 A VIEW OF THE AMERICAN INDIANS; their general Character, Customs, Language, Public Festivals, Religious Rites, and Traditions; shewing them to be the descendants of the Ten Tribes of Israel, &c. By Israel Worsley. R. Hunter, ———.
12mo. pp. 197.

The object of this work is to shew that the Indians of America, are, in all probability, the descendants of the lost ten tribes of Israel. The author has arranged and condensed the facts advanced by preceding writers on the same subject, and added such additional matter as he was able to collect in the course of his own reading.

16 Travels through North America, during the years 1825 and 1826. By His Highness, Bernhard, Duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach. . . . Philadelphia.
8vo. 2 vols.

The original in German, appears to have been printed in the same year at Weimar.

17 America, or a General Survey of the Political Situation of the several Powers of the Western Continent, with Conjectures on their future Prospects. By a Citizen of the United States.
8vo. pp. 356. (N. A. R, xxv., p. 169.) Murray,———.

By the Hon. Alexander H. Everett, at that time Minister of the United States at Madrid. An edition was also printed at Philadelphia, and a French translation at Paris. I believe that it was also translated into German. A Spanish translation appears to have been printed in this year at Northampton, Mass. "This essay, however objectionable it may be to an Englishman in several respects, is marked by ability of the very first order. Since the publication of those admirable Dissertations which were collected in The Federalist, we have not seen any political composition from the pen of an American, that can at all be compared with this. The style is idiomatic and thoroughly English, formed in our best school. We are often compelled to admire the beauty of the periods, when we are most disposed to differ from the sentiments which they convey." M. R.

1828. 20 The United States of North America as they are.
8vo. pp. 242. Simpkin, ———.

"One of the most severe and humiliating reports of the state of society and politics in the United States, which it has yet fallen to our lot to peruse. It seems as if the author thought himself intitled to monopolize all the topics of American slander to himself; for there is not one of them that has ever been touched upon by the most violent anti-republicans, which he does not revive and even exaggerate with all his ability."—M. R. "Vile trash."—N. A. R.

21 The Americans as they are; described in a Tour through the Valley of the Mississippi. By the Author of Austria as it is.
18mo. pp. 218. (N. A. R. xxviii., p. 415.) Hurst and Co., ———,

This work is written in a similar spirit to the foregoing, and a part of the preface appears to have been copied from it. "There is a petulant cynical, dissatisfied tone about his details of American life, which creates a suspicion that he does not mean to deal fairly by them."—M. R. The North American Review gives rather a favorable opinion of this work. It says that the book seems to have been formed on the principle involved in its concluding sentence. "Brother Jonathan is neither so bad as John Bull supposes him to be, nor so faultless as he fancies himself. Medium tenuêre beati."

22 The United States of America compared with some European Countries, particularly England; in a Discourse delivered in Trinity Church, in the City of New York, October, 1825. With an Introduction and Notes. By R. R. John Henry Hobart, D.D., Bishop, &c. Second edition, with additional Notes.

12mo. 2 vols. 100 Cuts.

The second volume was printed in 1830.

42 HISTORY OF THE LIFE AND VOYAGES OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. By Washington Irving. . Murray, ———.

8vo. 4 vols.

Ed. Rev. xlviii. p. 1. N. A. R. xxviii. p. 103.

"It is the object of this work to relate the deeds and fortunes of the mariner, who first had the judgment to divine, and the intrepidity to brave, the mysteries of the perilous deep; and who by his hardy genius, his inflexible constancy, and his heroic courage, brought the ends of the earth into communication with each other. The narrative of his troubled life is the link which connects the history of the old world with that of the new."—Book I. The world is indebted for this work, to the compiler of this Bibliotheca. He first suggested that Mr. Irving should undertake it, and urged Mr. Everett to induce him to come to Madrid (see preface, p. 1), not to translate Navarrete's Collection (No. 74, 1825), but to write the "Life of Columbus." During his many years residence in Spain, he had collected ample materials for such a work, and was happy to place them at the disposal of his distinguished countryman. He was amply rewarded by the handsome acknowledgement contained in the preface to this work.—A writer in an American periodical, The Southern Literary Messenger, has endeavoured to detract from the merit of Mr. Irving, by accusing him of having copied Navarrete, without a proper acknowledgment.—A sufficient refutation of this charge is to be found in Mr. Navarrete's own words. In his third volume (1829), speaking of the general acceptation of his former volumes he says, "a notable proof of this has just been given by Mr. Irving in his History of the Life and Voyages of Columbus, which has been received with an applause as general as well merited.—We stated in our introduction that we did not propose to write the Life of the Admiral, but merely to publish notices and materials that it might be written with veracity, and it has been fortunate that the first to undertake it should be a judicious and erudite writer, already known in his own country and in Europe, by other valuable works. Fixed in Madrid, with the opportunity of examining excellent books and precious manuscripts, and associating with persons well informed in these matters, and having at hand the documents which we had just published, he has been able to give to his history an extension impartiality, and accuracy, which renders it far superior to those of the writers who have preceded him. Add to this his methodical arrangement and convenient distribution; his animated, pure, and elegant style; his notices of various persons connected with Columbus, and the investigation of various questions, in which good taste, erudition, and a sane criticism are always apparent." —— Mr. Irving's work has gone through many editions in the United States, and been translated into most of the languages of Europe. One edition only has been printed in England.

46 Mexico in 1827. By H. G. Ward, Esq., H. M.'s Chargé de Affaires in that Country, during the years 1825, 1826, and part of 1827. . . . Colburn, ———.
8vo. 2 vols. 2 maps, 13 plates. £2. 2s.

A second edition with an Appendix was published in 1829.

"Mr. Ward may unquestionably claim the merit of having supplied a very useful appendix to many chapters in the Essai Politique of the celebrated Humboldt; but he has caught very little of the fine captivating spirit of philosophy, which pervades all the productions of that admirable writer." —M. R.

47 Journal of a Residence and Tour in the Republic of Mexico, in the year 1826; with some Account of the Mines in that country. By Capt. G. F. Lyon, R.N., F.R.S. . Murray, ———.

1829. 12 History of Massachusetts from 1790 to 1820. By Alden Bradford. . . . . Boston.
8vo. pp. 327. See 1822 and 1825.

This work is a continuation of Hutchinson and Minot. The first volume (No. 24, 1822) treats of the time between the years 1764 and 1775, when Washington took the command of the American army; the second (No. 5, 1825) pursues the narrative to the beginning of the federal government under the constitution in 1789, and the third comes down to 1820. The author's long employment as secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, has given him peculiar advantages for examining authentic records and documents; and this together with his well known love of historical research, ensures a value to these volumes for completeness, accuracy, and fidelity, which few authors have the means of imparting.—N. A. R. xxx. p. 1.

25 THE ANNALS OF AMERICA, from the Discovery by Columbus in the year 1492, to the year 1826. By Abiel Holmes, D.D. Second edition. . . Cambridge, Mass.
8vo. 2 vols. N. A. R. xxix. p. 428.
This new edition of the American Annals, is one of the best works of the kind ever published. Every thing of importance relating to the history of America is related in the order in which it happened, in a clear and concise manner, with copious and interesting notes, in which references are made to the most important authorities, by which the reader who wishes for more extensive information on the subject, may gratify his curiosity, without the trouble of turning over a great number of volumes.—The first edition was printed at Cambridge, Mass., in 1808, and reprinted in London in 1813.

26 FACTS relating to the Capture of Washington, in reply to some statements contained in the Memoirs of Admiral Sir George Cockburn, G. C. B. By the Officer serving as Quarter-Master General with the forces engaged. . Colburn, ———.

8vo. pp. 130. Murray, ———.

"This work consists of twenty letters which were first published in the Norfolk (Virginia) Herald, in the year 1827, with the signature of Senex. They appear to have been collected and published by the London Editor, who thought them worthy of diffusion and preservation in a distinct form. A part of Letter 17 is wanting, having "been lost by accident."

31 MEMOIRS, Correspondence, and Private Papers of Thomas Jefferson, late President of the United States. Edited by Thomas Jefferson Randolph. . . Charlottesville, Va.
8vo. 4 vols.

Reprinted in London in this year, and at Boston in 1830.

"These four large octavo volumes begin with a short fragment concerning (Jefferson) himself, drawn up at the age of seventy-seven: and close with a still shorter journal kept by him while Secretary of State, during Washington's administration. The rest consists exclusively of a voluminous correspondence, ranging from 1775, after blood had been spilt at Boston, to June 1826, ten days only before his death, so appropriately fixed for the fiftieth anniversary of American Independence. The Historian and Politician will here find invaluable materials upon nearly all the controverted points of the domestic and foreign policy of the United States, from the day of their existence as an independent government." Ed. Rev.

32 THE DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENCE of the American Revolution. Being the Letters of Benjamin Franklin, Silas Deane, John Adams, John Jay, Arthur Lee, William Lee, Ralph Izard, Francis Dana, William Carmichael, Henry Laurens, John Laurens, M. Dumas, and others, concerning the Foreign Relations of the United States during the whole Revolution; together with the Letters in Reply from the Secret Committee of Congress, and the Secretary of Foreign Affairs. Also the entire correspondence of the French Ministers Gerard and Luzerne, with Congress. Published under the Direction of the President of the United States, from the original Manuscripts in the Department of State, conformably to a Resolution of Congress, of March 27th, 1818. Edited by Jared Sparks. Boston. 1829.

8vo. 12 vols.

"This is a work of great importance for the history of the Revolution. It is a store house of new materials. If it does not bring forth many positively new results, it discloses new details, and furnishes new illustrations of points before known only in the general. No library of American history can dispense with it; no American statesman can creditably remain ignorant of its contents. It is a great and important work, long called for and wanted; and at last ably prepared for the public."—N. A. R. xxxiii. p. 449.

3 EXTRACTS OF LETTERS FROM POOR PERSONS who Emigrated last year to Canada and the United States. . London.
8vo.
These letters from pauper emigrants sent out at the public expense, exhibit a picture drawn by the hand of untaught simplicity, but with the warmth of real feeling, and the force of unsophisticated truth. They exhibit the immense change effected in the common labourer, maintained in his native country on parish pay, in unwilling idleness if not in crime, to a situation in which he can live on the best the country produces, and receive into the bargain wages sufficient at the end of a summer's work to purchase a farm of his own.—Quarterly Review, 46, p. 366.

4 COPIES AND TRANSLATIONS OF THE ROYAL CHARTERS by which the Territories of Nova Scotia and Canada, with the Islands and Seas adjacent, &c., were granted to William Alexander, Earl of Stirling, in 1621, 1625, and 1628. . London.

33 ANTIQUITIES OF MEXICO: comprising Fac-similes of Ancient Mexican Paintings and Hieroglyphics preserved in the Royal Libraries of Paris, Berlin, and Dresden; in the Imperial Library of Vienna; in the Vatican Library; in the Borgian Museum at Rome; in the Library of the Institute of Bologna; and in the Bodleian Library of Oxford; together with the Monuments of New Spain; by M. Dupaix: with their respective Scale of Measurement and accompanying Descriptions. The whole illustrated by many valuable in-edited Manuscripts, by Lord Kingsborough. The Drawings on Stone, by A. Aglio. . London.
Folio. See Brunet Sup. 2, 260.

Vols. 1, 2, and 3, contain fac-similes of the various Mexican manuscripts preserved in the Bodleian Library, the Royal Library of Paris, the Vatican, &c. Vol. 4, copies of the drawings made by Dupaix of the monuments of New Spain, particularly those of Palenque, on a large scale beautifully executed. These four volumes consist entirely of plates; the letter-press occupying the remaining four. The fifth (pp. 493) containing the original accounts of the Mexican MSS., in French, Italian, and Spanish: with the travels of Dupaix, and the sixth book of Father Sahagun's Historia Universal, both in Spanish. The sixth (pp. 540) a translation of all the foregoing, with notes and remarks, by Lord Kingsborough, and his "Arguments to shew that the Jews in early ages colonised America." Vol. 7, (pp. 464) contains the "Historia Universal de las Cosas de Nueva España, por el M. R. P. Fray Bernardino de Sahagun:" with an English translation. Vol. 8, (pp. 556) not yet published, contains extracts from Torquemada, Acosta, and Garcia: a Portugese sermon, preached by the Archbishop of Cranganor, at an Auto de Fé, in Lisbon, in 1705: an answer to the same: Extracts relating to the Inquisition: a part of Echevarria, Orijen de los Indios: Simon, Tercera y quarta Noticia historial. Adair, History of the North American Indians. Lord Kingsborough's Supplementary Notes to the Antiquities of Mexico, continued from Vol. 6, unfinished. The whole or part of a ninth volume is printed, and has been laying in the office of the printer (with vol. 8) since Lord Kingsborough's death. The whole work is, in fact, locked up by a suit in Chancery.

Two copies were printed on vellum, one of which was presented to the Bodleian Library, and the other to the British Museum. Ten copies were printed on large drawing paper, nine of which were presented to crowned heads and public institutions, and the tenth to the compiler of this work, who was employed by the author to collect books and manuscripts in Spain, and had the honour of presenting a copy to Ferdinand the Seventh, by whose order all the Archives and Libraries of Spain were opened to him, with permission to take copies of all that related to American history. Near one hundred folio volumes were obtained, many of them of great importance, and scarcely known to exist even in Spain. They were sold by auction in Dublin, a few years ago, and the compiler of this work had the good fortune to obtain nearly all of them.

Lord Kingsborough's penchant for Mexican Antiquities was produced by a sight of the original Mexican manuscript described by Purchas (Pilgrimes vol. 3), preserved in the Bodleian Library, where his lordship was a student. From the time he first saw it, he appears to have devoted his mind to it, and to have thought of nothing else. Augustin Aglio, an excellent and well known Italian painter, was employed by him to visit Rome, Vienna, Dresden, and other places, to search for, and to make copies of Mexican manuscripts, and after his return, to make drawings of them on stone. I visited Spain for him in 1830, and again in 1832. He was so well pleased with the result of my expeditions, that he gave me the large paper copy before referred to. After having expended upwards of thirty thousand pounds upon this work, he got into difficulties with some of the persons with whom he dealt, particularly with a celebrated paper manufacturer. He was arrested in Dublin, and from obstinacy or unwillingness to pay a demand he thought unjust, was thrown into prison. He was there seized with a typhus fever, which ended fatally in a few days. If he had lived, he would within a year, have become Earl of Kingston, and inherited a fortune of forty thousand pounds a year. Had he lived, there is no doubt but that he would have devoted his life and fortune to the development of the ancient history of America, which had become with him a monomania. 1831.

4to. pp. 742. Maps and plates.

An edition in 2 vols. 8vo. same year. Reprinted in Philadelphia, 8vo. 1832.

"The object of this voyage may be told in a few words. Captain Franklin was directed to proceed through Canada to the Arctic Ocean, and then to coast along towards Beering's Strait; and it was essential to his success, that when he reached that point, he should not be compelled to retrace his steps. Captain Beechey was sent round by Cape Horn, and through the Pacific, to receive him on board at the termination of his journey, should he fortunately succeed. After having arrived within fifty leagues of each other, a thick fog came on, which prevented Captain Franklin from proceeding any further. An account of his journey was published immediately after his return in 1828. Captain Beechey not finding any trace of Captain Franklin, returned by the way he came, and reached England after an absence of three years and a half, during which he had sailed over seventy-three thousand miles. The engravings in this book are admirable things."—Quarterley Review, vol. 45, p. 57.

12mo. 2 vols. Plates. Murray, ———.

Reprinted in the New York, same year.

It is not much to the credit of the taste of the British public at the present time, that the malicious effusions of a disappointed old woman, should pass through three editions in about three months. If the Americans have reason to be displeased with Mrs. Trollope, the handsome manner in which nearly all the English periodicals, and particularly the Edinburgh Review, have given them the amende honorable, should be received as full satisfaction. The following extracts from the latter work, shews, in a few words, the character of the book :—

"The drawings with which Mrs. Trollope has enlivened her text, shew its spirit. Their proper place is the window of a caricature shop. Considered in this light, our objections to her book are, first, that it is not announced as a caricature, but is passed off as a true picture ; next, that even were it so announced, it is too ill-natured to fall within the legitimate province of classical and gentlemanly burlesque. Instead of a pencil and indian ink, she uses vitriol and a blacking brush." See also North Am. Rev. 36, p. 1.

The London Quarterly "rejoices to say, that this is exactly the title page we have long wished to see, and we rejoice to say that, now the subject has been taken up, it is handled by an English lady of sense and acuteness, who possesses very considerable power of expression, and enjoyed unusually favorable opportunities for observation."—*Quar. 74 GEOGRAFIA GENERAL para el uso de la Juventud de Venezuela.
Small 4to. 4 vols. Caracas.

With the exception of the first 120 pages of the first volume, the whole of this work relates to America, and is principally historical. The first volume (pp. 542) contains an account of St. Domingo, Cuba, the Arctic Regions, Canada, and the United States.—The second (pp. 564) contains Mexico, Central America, the Antilles, Brazil, Beunos Ayres, Paraguay, the Cisplatine Republic, Patagonia, and the Islands of the Pacific.—The third (pp.618) contains Chili, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador, and Nueva Granada. —The fourth (pp. 646) and most important is devoted entirely to the History of the Republic of Venezuela. The author promises to give in a fifth volume a separate account of each province.—The dedication to General Paez is signed Feliciano Montenegro Colon., who says that " the 1833. following Lessons of Geography, taken from the best authors, were printed in the Havana in 1826," referring probably to the first 120 pages, the rest of the work being probably written by him. Vol. IV. was printed in 1837.

26 The Writings of George Washington; being his Correspondence, Addresses, Messages, and other Papers, official and private, selected and published from the Original Manuscripts; with a Life of the Author, Notes and Illustrations by Jared Sparks. . . . . Boston.

8vo. 12 vols.

The publication of this valuable work was commenced in this year, and finished in 1837, the stereotype plates of the first volume of the Writings were sent to London and an edition issued there, but it met with no encouragement, and was in consequence abandoned, the price being returned to the purchasers, and the copies on hand, to use a publisher's term, wasted—that is, mutilated and sold for waste paper. Some copies of the work were printed on large paper, in imperial 8vo. The first volume contains a condensed narrative of the facts in the life of Washington, and was separately published in London by Colburn, without the knowledge or consent of the author, in two volumes octavo. The second contains official letters relating to the old French or seven years' war, and private letters before the Revolution. Volumes three to eight contain the correspondence and miscellaneous papers relating to the American Revolution. The ninth consists of private letters, from the time that Washington resigned his commission as Commander in Chief of the army to that of his inauguration as President of the United States. The tenth and eleventh are devoted to letters official and private from the beginning of the Presidency to the end of the life of Washington. The twelfth consists of speeches and messages to Congress, proclamations, and addresses. The whole work concludes with ample indexes. The work is illustrated with several fac-similes, a variety of topographical surveys, plans of the principal military operations, and several beautiful portraits.—N. Am. Rev. 47, p. 318.

This book was published in 1829 under the title of "Tournée à la Mode &c." (See No. 46 of that year), but apparently not having met with a ready sale, was re-issued this year, with the above titles. Such things appear to occur more frequently in Paris, than in any other place, and are certainly not very honourable to those who have recourse to them.

39 Archæologia Americana: Transactions and Collections of the American Antiquarian Society. Vol. II. . Cambridge.
8vo. pp. 573.

The bulk of this volume is devoted to Mr. Gallatin's Essay on the Structure of the Indian Languages, and the data on which it is based. The latter consist of the following papers: I. Grammatical Notices of the various stock tribes of North America: with two maps. II. Verbal forms, exhibiting specimens of simple conjugations and transitions, in fifteen languages. III. Vocabularies, and select sentences, preceded by a tabular view of the American tribes, as far as they are known, to the number of sixty-four distinct tribes or bands.——This body of documentary matter is preceded by upwards of 200 pages of Historical and Critical text, in which the author unfolds the result of his reading and reflections on the subject. This Introductory Essay is terminated with "General Observations" which every one ought to read, who admires accurate observations, sound philosophy, and just criticism.—N. A. R., 45, p. 34.

1836. 41 THE COMPACT, with the Charter and Laws of the Colony of New Plymouth; together with the Charter of the Council at Plymouth; and an Appendix, containing the Articles of Confederation of the United Colonies of New England, and other valuable Documents. Published agreeably to a Resolve passed April 5, 1836, under the supervision of William Brigham, Counsellor at Law.

8vo. pp. 357. Boston.

1500 copies were printed by a resolve of the Legislature for the use of the Commonwealth. The volume is chiefly valuable as illustrating the spirit of the Pilgrim Fathers, and exhibiting the manners, wants, and sentiments of those early times. The Code before us carries us back to the very infancy of the settlement, shews us the misdemeanors and vices prevalent in the new community, and the penalties that were deemed most proper and effectual to check them. We see the moral as well as the physical difficulties with which we had to contend, and the remedies which they provided for their relief.—N. A. R., 44, p. 538.

42 MEMOIR OF SAMUEL SLATER, the Father of American Manufactures; connected with a History of the Rise and Progress of the Cotton Manufactory in England and America; with Remarks on the Moral Influence of Manufactures in the United States. By George S. White. Second edition. . Philadelphia.

19 THE AMERICANS, in their Moral, Social, and Political Relations. By Francis J. Grund. . Longman, London.

8vo. 2 vols.

N. Am. Rev. 46, p. 106.—Reprinted in Boston, in 1 vol. 12mo. pp. 423. The style of this work, the author being a German, is highly praised, both by the English and American reviewers. "The spirit of the book is one of kindliness. There is in it a tone of good humour, even where the author undertakes to censure. Indeed there is something more; there is an air of advocacy, which is constantly manifest. To a foreigner, who is interested in the country, Mr. Grund's work will be of great value, from the amount of information which it conveys. No other work, within our knowledge, presents a view so complete of our resources in every department of life. Facts are accumulated, and statistical tables are presented, which give it very much the appearance of a topographical survey."—N. A. Rev. ut supra.

Edidit Societas Regiæ Antiquariorum septentrionalium, lat. et danice. . . . . Hafniæ.
Imp. 4to. pp. 526. 18 Plates and Maps.

"This great work presents many powerful arguments and a host of striking facts in favour of the supposition that America was discovered by the Northmen in the year 986, and was repeatedly visited by them during the two succeeding centuries. Emanating from high authority, it merits the respectful attention and the strictest scrutiny of the learned. The internal evidence furnished by the documents themselves, is altogether in favour of their authenticity; the language, style, and manner, all belong to the early part of the golden age of Icelandic literature, or the middle of the eleventh century. The manuscripts from which the two first documents were printed, appear to belong to the thirteenth or fourteenth centuries, and their history is sufficiently known to entitle them to full credit."

"Mr. Parker's book contains a great body of facts, partly of things which passed under his own observation, and partly of things communicated to him by others; and he does not accurately discriminate between the two classes of information, nor afford us the means of judging for ourselves of the trust-worthiness of his informants. His work is somewhat deficient in method and in literary execution."—N. Am. Rev., 50, p. 129.

37 DOCUMENTARY HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION. Published in Conformity to an Act of Congress. By Matthew St. Clair Clarke, and Peter Force. Fourth Series.

39 HISTORY OF THE INDIAN TRIBES OF NORTH AMERICA; with Biographical Sketches and Anecdotes of the principal Chiefs. Embellished with 120 Portraits from the Indian Gallery, in the Department of War, at Washington. By Thomas L. M. Kenney, late of the Indian Department, Washington, and James Hall, Esq., of Cincinnati. . . Washington. 1838.

Folio. Vol. 1. pp. 204. 48 col. portraits.—Vol. 2. (1842.) 48 plates.—Vol. 3. (1844). 24 plates.

As early as 1824, the practice was begun of taking portraits of the principal Indians, who came to the seat of government, and of depositing them in the War Department. The project was approved and aided by the Executive, and under the management of Col. M'Kenney, then Superintendent of Indian Affairs, the number rapidly increased, till a very interesting gallery was formed. They were chiefly painted by Mr. King, an artist of high repute in this branch of his profession, who, by his long residence in Washington, and frequent opportunities of studying the subject of his pencil, has been remarkably successful in transferring to his canvass, the strong lineaments of the Indian countenance. Having this rare and curious collection before him, Col. M'Kenney conceived the plan of making it more valuable to the world by publishing a series of engraved portraits, exactly copied and coloured from these paintings. With each portrait is connected a biographical sketch of the individual whom it is intended to represent, drawn from original materials, and interspersed with anecdotes and narrations, many of which are spirited and strikingly graphic. The work contains also a historical account of the various tribes of Indians within the borders of the United States, and particularly of those situate to the eastward of the Mississippi. This essay forms a rare and valuable contribution to Indian History.—N. Am. Rev. 47, p. 134.

18mo. pp. 252. N. A. R., Oct., 1839.

This cemetry is on the plan of the celebrated one of Pere La Chaise, near Paris. This little volume is got up with great taste, and the wood engravings are of a superior description.

1839. 38 Society, Manners, and Politics in the United States; being a series of Letters on North America. By Michael Chevalier. Translated from the third Paris edition, by T. G. Bradford. . . . . Boston.
8vo. pp. 467.

"Mr. Bradford has executed his task in a very faithful manner. He has translated the work of M. Chevalier into fluent and elegant English, omitting only a few passages, which have no interest in this country. In some cases he has substituted, in the statistical statements, the results of information obtained since M. Chevalier's book was written, for those that are given in the French, and thus added to its value as an authoritative work in the United States. Its literary and typographical execution are derserving of the highest praise."—N. A. R., vol. 50, p. 299.

90 Narrative of a Journey to Guatemala, in Central America, in 1838. By G. W. Montgomery.

8vo. pp. 195. Wiley and Putnam, New York.

George Washington Montgomery, was born at Alicant, in Spain, the son of John Montgomery, a citizen of the United States, who was for many years a highly respected merchant at that place. After receiving a classical education at Exeter, in England, he was for some years employed by the Marquis of Casa Yrujo, the Father of the present Duke of Sotomayor, as his private secretary.—He was afterwards for some time attached to the United States Legation, at Madrid; during which period he translated Irving's Chronicles of the Conquest of Granada, into very pure Spanish, and published Tareas de un Solitario, a collection of tales in imitation of the Sketch Book, and El Bastardo de Castilla, an historical novel, founded on the story of the famous Bernardo del Carpio, which was translated into English, and published in America. His Spanish works met with great applause in Spain, for the classical purity of their language, and have been adopted by many Spanish teachers, as class-books. In the year 1838, he was sent as bearer of despatches from Washington to Guatemala, and on his return, published the present interesting account of his journey. He was soon after appointed United States Consul at Tampico, the climate of which place affected his health so much as to oblige him to leave it and return to Washington, where he was some time employed in the state department. But he never entirely recovered his health, and died at Washington, not long after, highly respected and deeply lamented by all who knew him, at the age of thirty-seven.

113 Cartas Mejicanas, escritas por D. Benito Maria de Moxo, año de 1805. Segunda edicion correjida y enmendada. Geneva.
8vo. pp. 415. 6 plates.

By the prologue to this work we learn, that its author, a native of Cervera, died young, immediately after a revolution (in South America), in which this work came near being buried in "eternal oblivion:"—that it was brought to Europe and printed, but so hastily, that it could hardly be read for the many orthographic errors with which it was stained. In consequence of which, it was thought proper to prepare the present edition, which is indeed, handsomely, but not very correctly printed.—The "Entretenientos de un Prisionero," etc. (see No. 68, 1828), by Baron de Juras Reales, a nephew of the author, is almost entirely made up from these letters, copied verbatim, without any other acknowledgment, than that he had for some of his dissertations, made use of a certain manuscript, which his uncle, the late Archbishop of Charcas, D. Benito Maria de Moxo, had left him, relating to Mexico, which he should have published before, but he thought it better to wait until he could procure his uncle's "Cartas Peruanas" to join with them. Now all the baron's dissertations are copies of the letters, with a few notes added, and the omission of the passages which shew that they were written in Mexico! 1839.

Rl. 8vo. pp. 264, 266. Plates 312. Author, ——.

One of the most curious and original works published during the present century. The plates or rather etchings, although merely outlines, are well executed, and appear to be very faithful representations of the objects and scenes described in the book. The author was born at Wyoming about the beginning of the present century ("some thirty or forty years since," he says, in his first letter.) A considerable part of these letters were published in the New York papers, as early as the years 1832 and 1833. His paintings, from which the plates were taken, and a collection of Indian manufactures, were exhibited for many years in Piccadilly, London.

82 Leyes de los Reynos de Indias. Quinta edicion, notablemente aumentada y declarada oficial por la Regencia provisional del Reyno en Real orden de 16 de Diciembre 1840. . Madrid.
Folio. 4 vols.

This celebrated collection of the Spanish Laws for the government of the Indies, as the Spanish Americas are usually called, had become so rare, that a copy could not be had in Spain at any price. The first edition was printed in 1681, the second in 1756, the third in 1774, each in four volumes folio, and the fourth in three volumes folio, in 1791.—There are several other collections of laws relating to the Indies; among the rarest of which, is that of Puga, printed at Mexico, in 1558; another by Diego de Encinas, printed at Madrid in 1596, and a Sumario, printed only for the members of the Council of Indies, in 1628.—But the rarest of all are the Laws of 1534, which were annulled, and the copies suppressed. A unique copy on vellum, which I found in Madrid, is now in that extraordinary receptacle of bibliographical treasures, the library of the Right Hon. Thomas Grenville.

23 American Notes, for general circulation. By Charles Dickens.

P. 8vo. 2 vols. Chapman and Hall, ———.

N. A. R., 56, p. 212.

"Mr. Dickens is, as every body knows, the author of some popular stories published originally in periodical parts—remarkable as clever exhibitions of very low life—treated however, generally speaking, with better taste and less vulgarity than their subjects seem to promise. This however must be taken cum grano salis. His low life—his Weller, Noggs, or Mantellini—is never vulgar—it is real; but the vulgarity of his attempts at the aristocracy—his lords and baronets—is woeful."—"There is, we think, little doubt that it was Mr. Dickens's reputation as a kind of moral caricaturist, a shrewd observer, and powerful delineator of ridiculous peculiarities in diction and in manners, that suggested the idea of his undertaking a voyage to America, and this consequent publication. Certain it is that the American public was considerably excited, not to say alarmed, &c."—"But with whatever intentions Mr. Dickens may have undertaken his tour, the result will equally disappoint those who feared and those who hoped that he would exhibit the interior of American life with the same shrewd perception of the ridiculous, and the same caustic power of describing it, for which he had become so celebrated at home. In fact, the work has very little of Mr. Dickens's peculiar merit, and still less, we are sorry to say, of any other. It seems to us an entire failure, &c." This opinion of a Quarterly Reviewer, (vol. 71, p. 502,) will shew to Americans, that Mr. Dickens is not thought to be, in England, so great a man as they took him for, and that his "American Notes" were hardly worth the "Change" which the American Lady, who was so violently assailed in a later volume of the same work, (vol. 73, p. 129,) undertook to give for them.

1842. 24 The Slave States of America. By J. S. Buckingham, Esq., Author of America, Historical, Statistic, and Descriptive. 8vo. 2 vols. pp. 587—600. 8 plates. Fisher, ———.

25 The Eastern and Western States of America. By J. S. Buckingham. . . Fisher, ———. 8vo. 3 vols. pp. 573—536—495. 15 plates.

Mr. Buckingham's great work on America, comprises four series, viz :—1st. The Northern States. 3 vols. (No. 13, 1841.)—2d. The Southern or Slave States. 2 vols.—3d. The Eastern and Western States. 3 vols.—4th. Canada, &c. vol. 1. (1843.)—Together, nine stout handsomely printed volumes, illustrated by numerous engravings on steel and wood, published originally at 6*l.* 10s, but the price has since been reduced to about two guineas. The beautiful plates in the third series are second-hand, having already appeared in Bartlett's American scenery. (No. 23, 1840.)—In copying the titles of these books, I chanced to open a volume where Mr. B. speaks of Major Noah's discourse on the Indians being descended from the lost tribes of Israel, and mentions a book having been written on the subject, by Mr. Simon, referring no doubt to Mrs. Barbara Simon, who has published two goodly octavos on the matter, (see No. 20, 1829, and No. 49, 1836,) and mentions also "the Earl of Crawford and Lindsey, who published his travels in America, in 1801;" meaning probably, Mr. Crawford, who published an essay on the subject in that year (see No. 7, 1801), and that "Lord Kingsborough in his travels not only declares, &c." He also says, that "Manasseh Ben Israel who flourished about 1650, wrote a treatise on the subject, soon after the discovery of America by Columbus!"—A little farther on are extracts from the newspapers, given no doubt on the strength of old Weller's advice, that in order to make a book on America sell, there should be plenty of abuse in it. In other respects, however, Mr. Buckingham is impartial enough, particularly considering that after gaining more than £3000 by his lectures, he lost it all by investing it in bad American stock.

26 Atlas of American History, on a novel plan, presenting at one view, the most important events in the History of the Country, from the Discovery by Columbus down to the present time, 1842. The first edition, in two volumes in 8vo., was published in Boston, in 1794–8. The present edition contains the following lives:—

Vol. 1. Biron.—Madoc.—Zeno.—Christopher Columbus.—James Cartier.—Ferdinando de Soto.—Humphrey Gilbert.—Walter Raleigh, and Richard Grenville.

Vol. 2. John de Fuca.—De Monts, Poutrincourt, and Champlain.—Ferdinando Gorges, and John Mason.—Sir Thomas Smith.—Thomas Lord Delaware, Sir Thomas Gates, Sir Geo. Somers, Captain Christopher Newport, Sir Thomas Dale, Sir Ferdinando Wainman.—Sir Samuel Argal.—Sir George Yeardley.—Sir Francis Wyat.—Bartholomew Gosnold, Martin Pring, Bartholomew Gilbert, George Weymouth.—John Robinson.—John Carver.

Vol. 3. William Bradford.—William Brewster.—Robert Cushman.—Edward Winslow.—Miles Standish.—John Winthorp.—John Winthorp, jun.—George Calvert, Cecilius Calvert, (Lord Baltimore), Leonard Calvert.—William Penn.

41 A Treatise on some of the Insects of New England, which are injurious to Vegetation. By Thaddeus William Harris, M.D. . . . Cambridge, Mass. 8vo. pp. 459. N. A. R., Jan., 1843.

Qu.? Is this the same work as No. 43 of 1841?

42 The North American Sylva; or a Description of the Forest Trees of the United States, Canada, and Nova Scotia, not described in the work of F. Andrew Michaux, and containing all the Forest Trees discovered in the Rocky Mountains, the Territory of Oregon, down to the shores of the Pacific, and into the confines of California, as well as in various parts of the United States. Illustrated by 122 fine plates. By Thomas Nuttall, F.L.S., &c. In 3 volumes. . Dobson, Philadelphia. Imp. 8vo. Vol. 1. Part 1.

The second part of the first volume was published in 1843.—Michaux's work was first published in French, in 1810, translated into English by 1842.

Mr. Hillhouse, and published with the same plates in Paris, in 1819.—Not long after, the remaining copies and coppers, were purchased by Mr. Maclure, and sent to the United States. In 1840, a new edition of the English translation was printed at New Harmony, on very bad paper, and with a worn out type, and, contrary to the intentions of Mr. Maclure, put at so high a price, that few copies were sold.—Latterly, all the remaining copies were destroyed by a fire on the premises where they were stored.—The present work is intended to be a continuation or rather completion of that work, containing all the trees and shrubs which were omitted by Michaux, or have been discovered since. But Mr. Nuttall having returned to England to take possession of an ample family inheritance, it is to be feared that the work will not be completed, notwithstanding that he committed the whole of the manuscript to the hands of the publisher, before he left the United States.—The paper and typography of this part are good, and the coloured lithographic plates respectable; it is therefore to be hoped, that the publisher will find sufficient encouragement to go on with it.

15 NATURAL HISTORY OF NEW YORK. Part I. Zoology. By James E. De Kay. With general Introduction by Authority. 4to. pp. 332. 35 plates. New York. 1843.

To be completed in about ten volumes, with upwards of 300 plates, and 500 wood-cuts, and a General Introduction, by his Excellency William H. Seward.—"The preparation of this splendid work by the ablest scientific men of the country has cost the state (of New York) more than 200,000 dollars, and is a brilliant example of enlightened legislative liberality. As a work embracing every department of Natural History, it must find a place in the library of all scientific men, as well as of all persons of taste and refinement. The work embraces the following departments:—1st ZOOLOGY, in three volumes, by James E. De Kay: contains figures and full descriptions of all the Mammalia, Birds, Reptiles, Shells, and many of the Insects which inhabit the State and its waters. Besides these, under the head of 'Extra Limital,' are short descriptions of all species known to inhabit North America. Thus the student has not only the Zoology of one state, but in fact of the whole continent. The great range of the State of New York, from the northern lakes to the sea-board, renders this department peculiarly interesting and valuable, from the large number of species which it embraces within its limits.—2nd BOTANY, in one volume, by John Torrey. This part will embrace full descriptions of all the Plants of the State, with remarks upon their habits, modes of growth, the means of cultivating and improving valuable plants, and of destroying the noxious or troublesome. The work will be illustrated by figures of about 100 of the most important and interesting species.—3rd MINERALOGY and CHEMICAL ANALYSIS, by Lewis C. Beck. The Mineralogical department gives a full account of the Minerals and Ores of the State, their analysis, important uses, &c.; together with an interesting account of the Saline and other Mineral Springs of the State, many of which have obtained so much celebrity. The work contains a large amount of practical information on every part of the subject.—4th GEOLOGY and PALÆONTOLOGY, by W. W. Mather, Ebenezer Emmons, Lardner Vanuxem, and James Hall. The Geological department embraces a full account of the Primary and New York Systems, or of those from the oldest known rocks to the carboniferous or coal-bearing period, together with the new red sand-stone and tertiary. The work is illustrated by numerous interesting sections, views of scenery, &c., with wood-cuts of more than 300 species of fossils characteristic of the strata. The rocks here described, together with their fossils, being little known in this country, and far more complete than the same formations in Europe, will render these volumes exceedingly interesting and important. This will be the first work in the country where any systematic description of the older, stratified rocks is given; and from the circumstance that these are better developed, and the series more complete in New York than in any part of the known world, it will form the most interesting work yet published upon the popular science of Geology. The volume on Palæontology contains full descriptions, with engraved figures of more than 500 species of Fossils, principally those found in the rocks intervening between the Primary and the Coal formation. The Fossils of each particular rock or group will be figured collectively, in the order of the series which they illustrate. The importance and interest in this portion of the Geological department is, if possible, superior to all the others; giving a large number of entirely new forms of these ancient denizens of our globe, with their geographical distribution and geological range."

"It is rare to find a volume going beyond the professions of its title-page, both in extent and variety of its subjects; the work before us is not confined to Religion; but is a clear, philosophical examination of the circumstances which have contributed to mould the form of society in the United States, to establish democracy in government, as well as the voluntary principle in religion, and to open for both a career to which it is impossible to assign limits."—Athenæum.

47 History of the Conquest of Mexico, with a Preliminary View of the Ancient Mexican Civilisation, and the Life of the Conqueror, Hernando Cortes. By William H. Prescott.
8vo. 3 vols. pp. 1404. Maps and plates. Bentley, ———.

Printed and published at the same time at Boston. Miss Edgeworth has asserted that this is the best historical work published during the present century; she might have added the best work ever published on the subject; but the English are averse to admitting that their historian Robertson has ever had an equal, particularly in an American.

48 Life in Mexico, during a residence of two years in that country. By Madame Calderon de la Barca. With a Preface, by W. H. Prescott. . Chapman & Hall, ———.
8vo. pp. 452. First printed in Boston.

"Madame Calderon's book has all the natural liveliness and tact, and readiness of remark, which are sure to distinguish the first production of a clever woman. * * * Never was traveller better qualified for such a task in such a country, as far as physical resources, courage, and curiosity could go.—A more genuine book, in air, as well as in reality, it would be difficult to find."—Edinburgh Review. 1843.

19 Despatches of Hernando Cortes, the Conqueror of Mexico, addressed to the Emperor Charles V., written during the Conquest, and containing a Narrative of its Events. Now first translated into English from the original Spanish, with an Introduction and Notes, by Geo. Folsom. . New York.
8vo. pp. 444.

This is a translation of the second, third, and fourth letters of Cortez, from the edition published in Mexico in 1770, by Lorenzana. Cortez' first letter has never been printed, it being supposed that it was lost. I have however in my possession two German tracts, printed in Nuremberg and Augspurg, in 1520, the matter of which appears to have been taken from that letter, which is also rendered more probable from the circumstance of Charles the Vth, to whom they were addressed, being in Germany at that time. Other letters of Cortes have lately been printed for the first time in the Coleccion de Documentos ineditos (No. 81, 1842) which it is to be hoped, that Mr. Folsom will also translate, and add to those now published.

50 The Life, Voyages, and Exploits of Admiral Sir Francis Drake, Knt., with numerous Original Letters from him and the Lord High Admiral to the Queen, and great Officers of State. 62 Zoology of the Voyage of H. M. S. Sulphur, under the command of Capt. Sir Edward Belcher, R. N., &c. Published under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty. Edited and Superintended by Richard Brinsley Hinds, Esq., Surgeon, R.N., attached to the Expedition.

Rl. 4to. Smith, Elder, & Co., ———.

"Among the countries visited by the 'Sulphur,' and which in the present state of science, are invested with more particular interest, may be mentioned, the Californias, Columbia River, the North West Coast of America," &c. In order to secure to science the full advantage of these discoveries, the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury made a liberal grant of money towards defraying part of the expenses of this publication. It is consequently sold at a much lower price than would otherwise have been possible.—Part I. Contains the Mammalia, by John Edward Gray, Esq. pp. 20, and 17 col. plates.—No. 10. (Ichthyology, part 3) was published in 1845.

63 The Zoology of the Voyage of H. M. S. Beagle, under the command of Captain Fitzroy, R.N., during the years 1832 to 1836. Edited and Superintended by Charles Darwin, Esq., M. A., &c., Naturalist to the Expedition. . London.

31 Oneota: or, the Red Race of America: their History, Traditions, Customs, Poetry, Picture-writing, &c. In extracts, journals, and other unpublished writings. By Henry R. Schoolcraft.

8vo. New York.

Published in numbers, the 5th of which was printed in the beginning of 1845. This series to be completed in eight numbers, forming a volume of 512 pages. The following extract from a New York journal will give an idea of the character of the publication.—"Mr. Schoolcraft while travelling as Government Agent at the Far West, and connected with the Indian bureau of the war department for some twenty years, devoted himself with singular zeal to the task of collecting facts relating to the history, mythology, and individual peculiarities of our Aborigines. His connection by marriage with the accomplished and highly educated grand-daughter of an Indian chief, a lady eminently versed in the language and lore of her fathers, gave Mr. S. every possible facility to avail himself of his position and official advantages as a resident among the tribes. In his labor of research, he accumulated a vast amount of notes upon their habits, their dialects, and superstitions; notes of the most curious and valuable kind, from the minute insight they give us into the mind of the red man. So extensive and varied, indeed, was his collection, that he despaired of giving it to the public in a fully digested form: he determined therefore upon the manly and patriotic course of giving the notes themselves, almost in their primitive state to the public. The invaluable miscellany called Oneota, or the Red Race in America, is the result, and a more varied, curious, and suggestive publication has never appeared from the American press."

"The American war gave rise to this work in 1775. Every authentic paper relative to that war, as also with France and Spain, whether published in England or America, by the British Ministry, or the American Congress, are all carefully inserted in this work. The letters of the several commanding officers, addresses, resolutions of the various committees, conventions, &c. To these have been prefixed, at the desire of many persons, a collection of authentic papers on the various subjects of dispute, from the resolutions which gave rise to the Stamp Act in 1764 to the battle of Lexington in 1775. This volume accompanies the Remembrancer, and is called Prior Documents, or a collection of interesting authentic papers, relative to the dispute between Great Britain and America; showing the causes and progress of that misunderstanding, from 1764 to 1775. Complete sets of this valuable and interesting work may be had of the publisher in seventeen volumes. Price six Guineas, half-bound and lettered.—Almon's Catalogue, 1786.
